Press Release

05/27/2010

Morgantown Police Department will heighten patrols during the Memorial Day weekend.

Historically we see an increase in traffic during the first holiday of the summer season and the latest surveys report that an increased number of people intend on traveling this weekend and the majority will be traveling by car. It is our goal to keep the roads safe for those traveling and police will be concentrating on speeding, aggressive driving, DUI and seat belt usage. While we are urging motorists to drive safe and sober, we also want to raise awareness about the dangers of speeding and DUI. Officers will be increasing patrols and enforcement during this holiday weekend. Additional officers will be working overtime this weekend with funds provided by the Governors Highway Safety Program.
